50 CENTS PER MONTH

SENATE PASSES OWEN GLASS CURRENCY BILL

MEASURE WON IN VOTE OF 54 TO 34

Substantial Victory for Wilson —Will Reform Present
Finance System

ENDS LONG FIGHT—MAY BE SIGNED ON MONDAY

Fundamentals of Bill Include Gold Reserve, Market for Assets, Reserve Board

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The house refused today to accept the currency bill as amended by the senate by a vote of 294 to 59. This action means that the matter must be threshed out in the house conference.

Administration Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Representative Glass told the house today that the conferees on the administration bill which passed the senate last night by a vote of 54 to 34, cannot possibly agree before Monday. This eliminated the last possible chance of getting the bill with the senate amendments through the house today. It is still thought the bill could be finished in time to have it in the President's hands for signature before Monday night. Several differences have already been agreed on. It is said in the house that as soon as the bill has been reported by the conferees, a majority of the senate amendments will probably be passed.

President Wilson will sign the bill the moment it reaches him. He is expected simultaneously to issue a statement to point out its strongest features. The organization of the new system will be undertaken at once and put into effect "as soon as practicable," as provided in the wording of the bill.

The passage of the currency bill through the senate marks the second notable victory for President Wilson. The bill as it emerged from the struggle in the upper house carries all the fundamentals upon which Mr. Wilson and his advisers insisted, but is admittedly a better and safer measure than the one which left the house of representatives.

Ends Six-Year Fight

Last night's action by the senate practically ends a fight for currency reform which began soon after the 1907 panic and which had been agitated sporadically before that year.

President Wilson and the Democratic leaders see in the measure a stimulus to business and are confident it will soon end the cries of "enclivity howlers."

Secretary McAdoo was on the floor of the senate and joined in the jubilation. He occupied a chair on the floor between Senators Owen and Hitchcock. In the reserved galleries were Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Miss Eleanor Wilson, Miss Bones and Secretary Tumulty, all of whom seemed as pleased as Democratic senators on the floor.

Fundamentals of Currency Bill
The fundamentals of the currency bill passing the senate last night and which is expected to completely reform the vast, complicated machinery of finance, banking and currency, are as follows:

The issue of currency, guaranteed by the government, based upon notes and bills representing commercial transactions and backed by a gold reserve. The new currency is expected to contract and expand to meet the varied demands of trade.

The concentration of the bank reserves in the country in regional institutions capitalized by the banks of the country and controlled by directors elected by the banks.

The creation of a market for the negotiable commercial paper which forms the bulk of the assets of the banks where, in time of stress, those assets may be easily and without loss transformed into cash.

The establishment of from eight to twelve great regional banks through out the country which will issue currency, rediscount paper and centralize and mobilize the reserves of the local banks.

The creation of a federal reserve board of seven members appointed by the president with final powers of control, and supervision over the entire system.

The senate has retained, after a contest, the house plan to have each regional bank a "bank of banks" with the directorate controlled by the member banks and the capital furnished by enforced subscription of national banks.

SOME CHRISTMAS TREE THAT, AT ELKS HALL

Standing in its place, ready to receive the finishing touches by the deft fingers of the ladies of the committee, is a monster tree which will bear gifts for the hundreds of children who are expected to attend the Elks' Children's Day entertainment on Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The tree is "as high as the house," and its great spreading boughs cover an enormous space. In fact it had to be cut off a couple of times before it would stand up under the twenty-foot ceiling of the spacious auditorium of the Elks hall and with its glittering trimmings, twinkling lights and burden of gifts, it will be wonderful to behold.

All children of ten years and under will be guests of the Elks on Tuesday afternoon.

FORTY PRISONERS APPLY FOR PAROLE

Prison Board at Folsom to Go Over Pleas—Duff Not Strong for Pardon of Ruef

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 20.—The applications of 40 prisoners at Folsom prison for parole, will be heard to night by the prison board. President Duffy, and other members, arrived here last night and conferred with the governor today, and then immediately started for Folsom.

President Duffy intimated that he would urge the next session of the legislature to consider a constitutional amendment making it possible for a "second-term" to secure a pardon without first securing the recommendation of the state supreme court.

Regarding the petition for the pardon of Abe Ruef that is being circulated in San Francisco, Duffy said:

"My position is the same now as always. I could not conscientiously advocate Ruef's parole. I am sorry at his plight, but it is his own fault."

AMERICAN T. AND T. CO. YIELDS POINT

Will Dissolve Without Any Legal Action on Part of Government

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The threatened Sherman law suit for the dissolution of the American Telephone and Telegraph company has been avoided through an agreement reached between that company and the department of justice.

Under the agreement the American Telephone and Telegraph company will dispose of its stock holdings, estimated at about $30,000,000, in the Western Union Telegraph company. It also agrees not to acquire any more of its competitors and to give the independents toll service in connection with the Bell lines, under certain limitations. This means, it is believed, that the president has no intention of urging government ownership.

Step Restores Confidence
This agreement is the first impressive evidence of the administration's new policy to cooperate with "big business" in the matter of readjustments under the Sherman law. It is the most encouraging step thus far taken by the Wilson administration to restore the confidence of the business interests of the country.

IT FORESHADOWS PHILIPPINE AUTONOMY

General Pershing's Retirement Means Removal of Troops from Mindora Province

SECRETARY GARRISON ADMITS POSSIBILITY

Army Officers Amazed—Predict
Outbreak—Mendora
Most Uncivilized of All

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—That the recent termination of General Pershing's command of the American troops in Mindora province of the Philippines, foreshadows preparations to withdraw troops entirely from the province, was admitted by Secretary of War Garrison.

Army officers here expressed amazement at the possibility. They declared that the Mindorans are the most uncivilized of the Filipinos, and predict an outbreak immediately upon the withdrawal of the troops.

It is generally believed that the expected establishment of a civil instead of a military government in Mindora province is a step in the administration's policy toward early autonomy in the Philippines.

FILIPINOS GOVERNABLE— NOT SELF-GOVERNABLE

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—At a complimentary dinner to W. Cameron Forbes, former governor general of the Philippine Islands, given here last night by the Philippine Society and the Harmony Club of America, former President W. H. Taft was the principal speaker. His address dealt with the problems confronting the American government in the Philippines. He said it had been demonstrated that the Filipino people were governable, but that so far there had been little promise that the educated and wealthy, largely concerned at present with securing autonomy for the islands, would further the interests of the great body of Filipinos, who, "steeped in ignorance, do not know their own rights."

Mr. Taft expressed the fear that the small wealthy class would exploit the masses. The speaker predicted that withdrawal of the American government at present would mean nothing more than reoccupation of the islands in the interest of peace.

Mr. Forbes spoke on the economic conditions of the Philippines and sketched briefly what improvements had been made in the islands under American regime. He said he was in favor of seeing the Philippines retained until the American principle of government was better understood by the natives.

BRIBERY CASE IS DISMISSED

District Attorney Concludes
Not to Prosecute Darrow
Further

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—The indictment charging Clarence Darrow with bribing Robert Bain, a prospective McNamara juror, was dismissed at the instance of District Attorney Fredericks, who appeared before Superior Judge Jackson. Fredericks said that inasmuch as Darrow was twice tried, the state had agreed to drop the case. Darrow was acquitted on the charge of bribing Juror George Lockwood. The jury disagreed on the first trial of the Bain charge.

WALTHAM WATCH CO. CANNOT STOP CUT RATES OF DEALERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The United States circuit court of appeals yesterday decided that the Waltham Watch Company of Waltham, Mass., could not force Charles A. Keene, a New York jeweler, to stop selling their watches at cut prices. The court affirmed the decision of the federal district court without opinion.

GERMAN OFFICER PUNISHED
STRASSBURG, Germany, Dec. 20.—A sentence of forty-three days' imprisonment was pronounced by a court martial on Lieutenant Baron von Persa of the Ninety-ninth Infantry for cutting down with his saber a lame shoemaker in Seahern, Alsace, December 2.

The sentence also cost the lieutenant his commission.

Dorothy Wants Santa Claus to Remember Her

The first Santa Claus mail to be received by the leading office of a prominent benevolent organization of this city came through the local postoffice today. The brief but to-the-point letter, dated "Santa Ana, Dec. 13, 1913," runs thus:

Dear Santa Claus:

I want a piano, doll and buggy,

please Santa Claus.

MUCH INTEREST IN GUN CLUB PROPOSAL

One Beach Man Says No Offer
Made; Other Prints
Otherwise

Thorpe of the Thorpe Engraving Co. of Los Angeles was in Santa Ana today, and while here made the statement that sporting men generally in Los Angeles and men who own land in this county to the west of the Santa Ana river are much interested in the outcome of the negotiations for rights-of-way for the coast boulevard through the Bolsa Chico and other gun clubs.

"It is understood that the gun clubs want this county to pass an ordinance prohibiting hunting on roads as one of the considerations for granting rights-of-way," said Thorpe. Thorpe said that many ranchers are opposed to favoring the gun clubs not because the ranchers want to hunt on the road, but because they are against the gun clubs because they believe the gun clubs are exhausting the underground water supply of the county to keep up their duck ponds.

"I used to have a well that flowed seventy inches of water on my ranch to the west of here," said Thorpe. "It does not flow at all now, and in order to get water I have to use a pumping plant."

The Huntington Beach News, the editor of which is a representative in the South Coast Improvement Association, states that its editor places no credence in a statement that the gun clubs will not grant rights-of-way unless the proposed ordinance becomes law. It says that the gun clubs have practically consented to grant rights-of-way, and have made no mention of such a condition as that suggested.

A contrary report to this was published in the Newport News, the editor of which is also a representative on the South Coast Improvement Association. The Newport News said that the gun clubs had asked for the concession. A representative in the association stated to a Register reporter that the Bolsa Chico club would take no chances on a board of supervisors passing the ordinance then rescinding it as soon as the right-of-way was secured, but would

How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I avoid them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

angle the law up along with the deed is such a way that the abolition of the proposed law would cause the right-of-way to revert to the gun club. The matter has been discussed widely in this county and also in Los Angeles county. There is no decision but that should the board of supervisors pass the no-road shooting ordinance it would be subjected to a referendum vote. Moreover, it is not at all likely that the supervisors will pass the ordinance.

TO MOVE BROOM FACTORY TO THIS CITY

Van Winkle Expects to Establish His Plant in Santa Ana

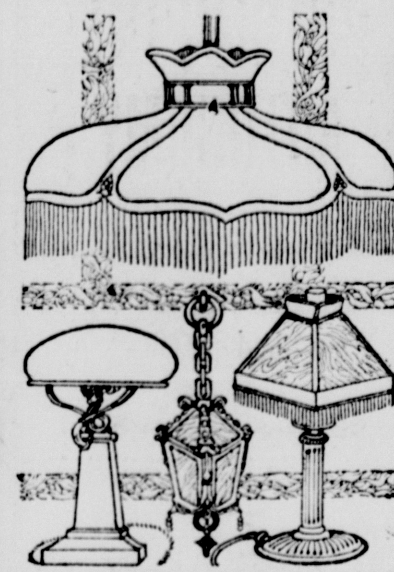

Huntington Beach News: The statement made by officials of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, as noted in Friday morning's correspondence of the Los Angeles Times, that the Van Winkle or Pacific Coast Broom Factory is to be removed from Huntington Beach to this city is erroneous. Mr. Van Winkle admits, however, to the Huntington Beach News that his factory will probably soon be removed to Santa Ana, the commercial organization of that city having, according to Mr. Van Winkle, offered to bear the expense of removal. He states that his company is forced to borrow money largely because of the big amount of accounts it usually has outstanding from purchasers of its product and for that reason must be financed to a considerable extent by outside capital. Mr. Van Winkle believes that such capital will be available at Santa Ana provided the plant is located there. That city was originally selected by the firm as the location for its plant but the Board of Trade of Huntington Beach offered a free site for the broom factory as an inducement for the enterprise to be located here and this fact in connection with considerations local to this city where the elder member of the firm has resided a number of years and is held in the highest esteem, brought the enterprise here. Both father and son, who compose the firm operating the factory, are men of sterling integrity and the removal of themselves and their families from Huntington Beach will be a source of much regret.

W. T. Newland Quits Farm-

Business

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 20.— Beet growers of this section are rapidly signing their acreage to the local factory of the Holly Sugar Company at the reduced price offered for sugar beets by all the eastern California sugar factories. This is being done in spite of the decision of the Southern California Beet Growers' Association, which at a recent session in Los Angeles protested against the reduction in price paid by the factories last year.
The Holly Sugar Company's resident manager expresses the belief that the acreage under contract to it this season will be altogether satisfactory.

here by William T. Newland, a former rancher and now president of

AMUSEMENTS

"The Rosary"

The power of the influence of good fighting against evil is shown in "The Rosary." The exposition is so simply and plainly submitted that the play's story of battle between good and evil is made to possess all the appeal of the early morality plays with which the stage had its beginning. The title character, Rev. Brian Kelly, is at every moment true to life, a zealous and watchful shepherd, solicitous of the safety of souls.

right. The play's teachings throughout are of the highest value in essentials. Many homes have been made happy through the teachings of "The Rosary." The very root of love between man and wife is shown in the play. You will enjoy the many white lady and coon companion appropriately named White and Black, in a funny skit called "Flirtation." The Divine Dodson, a female impersonator, and a little western act entitled "The Tenderfoot's Troubles," which is screamingly funny.

The star feature of last night's performance, however, was the big three-reel picture drama, "When the Earth Trembled." This series of pictures tells a beautiful love story throughout and brings into the second part of the play a most thrillingly realistic earthquake, with all its attendant scenes of distress and bravery, excitement and hair-breadth escapes, etc., etc.

The pictures were made in San Francisco immediately following the terrible disaster in that city, while great buildings were being torn down, after the devastation of the "quake," and in securing these actual happenings in this series the motion-picture people have achieved one of the finest things that has ever been shown in this city.

This series and many other fine pictures that were shown last night are to be shown again this afternoon and evening.

STEPMOTHER WINS TEMPORARY CUSTODY

Los Angeles Times: Little Elizabeth Meiklejohn, who is the prize over which her father, Matthew Meiklejohn, a prominent tailor, and her stepmother, are fighting in the probate court, is the subject of an experiment with the hope of solving a distressing problem.
Judge Rives yesterday, at the close of the case involving Mrs. Meiklejohn's attempt to set aside her husband's guardianship of the girl and having herself named, gave Elizabeth into the custody of her foster mother for a month. Meiklejohn has the opportunity of seeing her at his wife's home, Balboa.

Mrs. Meiklejohn's health seems to demand that she have the child with her. Elizabeth went gladly with her, with never a goodbye for her father.
The guardianship contest involves Elizabeth's inheritance of $25,000.

UNMANAGEABLE AUTO HIT TELEGRAPH POLE

Placencia Courier: While driving down the long hill in the Brea Canyon the brakes burned out and the car driven by George Wither became unmanageable. The car came to a stop against a telephone pole. Mrs. C. K.
Broadway was thrown out of the car but alighted on her feet. The other occupants were uninjured, save for the shaking up.

Mr. Wither had gone for Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Broadway and was accompanied by Clifford Broadway. The car was not as badly injured as at first supposed, the fender and a couple of other pieces in the front having been broken.

STREET LIGHTING SERVICE BEGAN MONDAY NIGHT

Placencia Courier: The street lighting service of the new Placencia lighting district began its nightly vigil Monday night of this week. The benefits of this service will be appreciated in a short time and the objections made thereto will soon have been forgotten. Coming from the unlighted roads into the zone covered by the district the difference is distinctly apparent and the driver in a rig need not worry about running into a foot passenger or the end of an unobserved vehicle in the dark. The foot passenger will also find it much more pleasant.

SEEKS PICTURES OF THE SAVIOUR

Chicago Man Spends 25 Years
Collecting Old and Modern Representations

ROME, Dec. 20.—John Lennox, of Oak Park, Ill., today gave a public exhibition of his art collection of photographic reproductions of Christ in art. The American explained today that he is spending the winter in Italy in the hope of completing his collection which, as shown today, includes more than 3000 photographs which it has taken him 25 years to acquire from all parts of the world.

The collection begins with photographs of the first rubricated portrays of Christ as they were found cut in the walls of the catacombs, and continue down through the development of sacred art until the present time. Confident that he has secured photographs of all the pictures of Christ by the ancient and Renaissance artists, Lennox is now devoting his time exclusively to the modern paintings. At present he is photographing the face as it appears in some recent frescoes at Florence.

His work is also being greatly aided by the modern artists themselves who send him the photographs of their work. Some of the latest thus to be received by him came from Geb-hardt, the famous German artist.

May Put On Motor Cops

Anaheim Plain Dealer: Numerous infractions of the speed ordinance recently by drivers of automobiles and motorcycles, have about caused Marshal Kellenberger to decide to recommend to the city council that motorcycle cops be again placed on duty. The marshal is determined that speeding on the streets shall be stopped, and the open muffler nuisance be abated. If the public does not cut out the speed program and obey the ordinance in other respects, then there is sure to come the alternative of the speed cop, and from past experience the public knows what that means.

THE CAREER OF A WOMAN SUPERINTENDENT

Some one says that the two most notable things about Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago are that, although a woman, she has, or had, a $10,000 salary as superintendent of schools, and that every group of hers has a pocket. Relative to the latter point most women will say that it takes force of character thus to defy the unanimous and militant convictions of the dress-makers.

When the Chicago school board practically forced Mrs. Young out a few days ago they failed to consider that a personality that so combines both forceful and gracious qualities wins a great many adherents. To the politicians it is wasting good money to give any woman a $10,000 job. But the politicians' view is getting obsolete, as the emphatic protest against Mrs. Young's retirement suggests.

When Mrs. Young began teaching in the Chicago schools in 1862 about all the important positions she has occupied since that time were forbidden to women. As a member of the National Education Association she had to sit in the gallery and see the men do the business. It was quite a turnover when she rose to the president's chair of the same organization and preserved order among the men. Hers has been a life of struggle and of overcoming difficulties that encompass any woman who cuts a path into fields new to her sex.

Many instances of quick penetrating intuition can be found in Mrs. Young's work, all suggesting that women superintendents may not be so rare in future. While mechanical ventilating systems are fashionable now, Mrs. Young believes that open windows several times a day are better than any patent scheme. It was remarked, after the school principals had been more or less late at their first meeting, that something happened as a result of which they were not tardy afterward. She works to fit young folks for everyday living, and they do not lose sight of the mechanical trades and home economics.

TRUE RECREATION

We hear much of the need of relaxation for the "tired business man" and the "jaded society woman." Their needs are supposed to be met, in the first place, by amusements devised for inert and vacant minds, observes The Journal of the American Medical Association, and, in the last resort by the "rest-cure." Meanwhile, our octogenarian colleague whose name is so frequently associated with this method of treatment is demonstrating in his own person the fact that one may fill well-ordered days with steady accomplishment and find recreation, not in passivity, but in a complete change of mental occupation. Thirty years ago Dr. S. Weir Mitchell undertook to write a novel as a vacation pastime after his winter practice. The result was "In War Time," which had a large and immediate success. The effect on Dr. Mitchell himself, even before the success of his novel came to corroborate it, was a thorough recreation, a veritable refreshment of faculties that sent him back to his work reinvigorated and satisfied. He has continued since to take up some serious literary labor every summer. His vigor of mind and body now, when well past four score years of age, attest the healthfulness of this practice begun in middle life. Doubtless Dr. Mitchell's health and long life are due in large measure to his habit of changing his environment as well as his occupation every summer. At all events, his example is instructive. It is well to remember that many persons whose nervous condition is on the downgrade toward nervous exhaustion need, not rest or frivolous amusement, but a new and absorbing mental occupation that will take their minds entirely out of the beaten tracks of their previous interests.

OZONE TO HIDE ODORS

"We have long been of the opinion," says the San Francisco Argonaut, "that whatever is unpleasant is bad for us, and we have endeavored in our humble and unscientific way to rule our lives accordingly. That is why we object to cold mutton and to being contradicted. They are bad for us—we felt it was so without knowing the reason." This was apropos of the contention of Dr. Hill of London that ozone is of value, not because it kills germs, but because it removes odors and the like are injurious because they are unpleasant. Here we have an apparent conflict between esthetics and health, says The Journal of the American Medical Association.

DRAMA ABROAD AND AT HOME

By Beau Rialto

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Broadway has a real Christmas play, for the first time in many seasons. Incidentally the first snow of the season, either stage or natural, fell at the Maxine Elliott theatre, when "Things That Count" opened there the other night, succeeding "The Lure," of police and grand jury fame. "Things That Count" are children, which is as it should be in a Christmas play, and the piece is itself one of the few things theatrical that counts in this season of failures and near-fizzles.

The play has not much of a plot; it does not tax the intellect or the credulity to follow it, and it is filled with just the right mixture of laughter and tears, snivels and shrieks, which is what the children and women, major patrons of holiday plays, demand. Certain it is that if "Old Scrooge" had lived to see this pretty, thoroughly wholesome play, the rating chains would have been superfluous in his conversion from a human crab to a benevolent old gentleman. "A Christmas Carol" would be no misnomer for "Things That Count," except that as a title it is a bit threadbare.

A young man and girl are estranged from his parents, who refuse to accept her. They have a little child, who gets sick and must be operated upon. The tragedy happens on Christmas Eve, at a children's party in the tenement where the young people live, and at the critical moment the older parents of the man arrive on the scene. The old woman immediately melts and becomes a veritable Christmas angel. That's the whole story. An atmosphere of snow, sleigh-bells and the "peace and good will" stuff do the rest. The lead is most capably played by Miss Alice Brady, daughter of William A. Brady, the manager.

Last week saw a remarkable galaxy of young stars, all the children of theatrical parents, making their debuts on Broadway. Miss Alice Brady, who has been on the stage for a season or two in minor parts, made her first appearance in a serious role as the leading woman in "Things That Count," and her success was instantaneous. Two nights later Miss Elaine Hammerstein, daughter of Arthur Hammerstein, and grand-daughter of Oscar Hammerstein, made her first stage appearance in New York in "High Jinks." She is a bud of this season, and had her first experience when "High Jinks" was tried out on the road. At Hammerstein's Victoria at the same time was Miss Lane Carrol, daughter of Anna Held. Miss

Odors is almost a natural protective mechanism. At first thought there comes to mind only one really edible substance possessed of a bad odor, and it has fallen into some disrepute. The man who first remarked, "I smell a rat," voiced a grave suspicion. We have always been suspicious of that which was openly unpleasant, but remembering the man who "had an ax to grind," we have been more suspicious of that sweetness which masks a Carrera is appearing in a tabloid musical comedy and is said to be a "chip o' the old block," so to speak, especially in the matter of eyes that will not behave. The success of these three young actresses is most gratifying to their families and friends and is considered another bit of evidence that "blood will tell."

Some 30-odd road shows closed last week in the East, West and Middle West, and reunions are things of momentary occurrence these days along the Rialto. Advance men whose companies have quit business are to be seen on every corner, and all sorts of actors and actresses are hunting the agencies, looking for almost any old thing that will keep the wolf from the dressing room. Take it from the agencies and the thespians this has been a disastrous season. That line of talk is always heard about this time of the year along Broadway, but in this instance it is more or less substantiated by the facts. Shows have failed everywhere and their bleaching bones mark the various circuits from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf. Peculiar twists have been noted, too, among the plays that have gone by the board. Productions that have done fairly well in New York have failed utterly on the road, and other plays that have toured successfully for weeks in the West and Middle West, have failed signally on coming to Broadway.

There are many contributing causes to this state of affairs. Primarily, of course, the fault must lie with the plays themselves. Few dramas of musical comedies of real merit have been put out this season. The playwrights seem to have lost the knack. But a contributing cause, heavily responsible in the moving picture theatre. Every city in the United States is now honey-combed with "movies," there being one or two in every neighborhood, easy to reach without going downtown.

St. Louis, for instance, has about 700,000 inhabitants, and last year there were 64,000,000 paid admissions to the "movies" in that city. The picture houses now put on a few vaudeville turns, and some, in New York and other large cities, maintain stock companies to intersperse the pictures with tabloid dramas. Admission ranges from a nickel to a quarter. When one, for five cents, can run around the corner and get an evening's entertainment, without an automobile and without "dressing up," it is small wonder that the expensive downtown theatres are suffering.

hidden unpleasantness. When we see a costly, intricate, whirling apparatus and perceive a new peculiar odor, our olfactory organs stimulate our association tracts, and behold, we too, begin to smell a rat!

Heat for your Home

Heat at this season is of great importance, since many evenings are spent at home, the unsanitary gas log or gas heater, unsanitary because it discharges the fumes in the very room you are heating, the gas consumes the oxygen, the very air you should be breathing, the air that is necessary to good health.

The coal and wood furnace, while not so offensive, has proven disagreeable in many respects, the endless task of carrying ashes, the constant attention necessary to secure the desired amount of heat, the dust and dirt carried through the pipes into the rooms, the running up and down the steps into the cellar, has taxed the patience of a great many people. In order to overcome the unhealthy condition caused by the gas log or gas heater, and the inconvenience of a coal or wood furnace, the Santa Ana Heating & Metal Works have placed a gas heater on the market, one that overcomes the difficulties of a gas log or coal and wood heaters. This

HEATER REQUIRES NO CELLAR

If you have no cellar this is your material gain, as you can install a Simplex heater for less money than a cellar would cost, which is necessary with any other system. The Simplex heater can be placed on screen porch or kitchen, in fact anywhere with equally good results. It is constructed in such manner that

No Gas Fumes Can Enter Rooms

The gas fumes are carried to the roof by means of a small pipe.

Heater and Ventilator Combined

During the summer months when the heat is oppressive, you can force cold air into your rooms, through the same pipes as you do heat in colder weather.

We Force Our Heat Through Pipes

To those who are skeptical regarding our ability to heat your house, with heater on porch, we have installed a demonstrator at our shops where you can call and we will gladly explain how this is accomplished. When the heat is forced through pipes, you can heat any or all parts of house at one time, whereas if gravity system is used

(As All Coal and Wood Furnaces Are)

you can only heat the south side when a north wind is blowing, or the east side when the wind comes from the west.

Your Fuel Bill

is small compared with any other system. This will further be reduced in a short time, as the residents of Santa Ana have been assured of natural gas in about 90 days. The natural gas contains 50 per cent more heat units than the gas you are now using. This fact in addition to the 25 per cent reduction in price should bear great weight with anyone contemplating the installation of a heating system.

This heater does not require a great deal of space, for instance, to heat a six room house a space of 22x28 is adequate. It is so simple a child can safely operate it, it is fool-proof and cannot get out of order.

In order to introduce the Simplex Heater in Santa Ana we are selling them at $55.00. This heater will heat a 6 or 7 room house comfortably. Other sizes made to suit your needs. This price is for a short time only. Prices will absolutely be raised after Jan. 1st. All orders placed before Jan. 1 will get the benefit of this low price. You can have them installed any time you wish, no matter if you are using any other system of heating, have our man call or telephone and we will gladly explain the advantage of this system over any other. AT THE BAUMGARTNERS

Holiday Whist Party Made Good Cheer for Hundred Guests Asked to Function

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Baumgartner last evening entertained at their beautiful home on North Main street with a brilliant holiday whist party, graciously sharing with their many friends their Christmas cheer. The soft browns and tans of the lovely rooms made an ideal background for the gay scarlet holly berries and the profusion of deep red carnations, which, with the graceful tendrils of asparagus fern, were lavishly used as decorations on the lower floor, while great bowls of Maman Cochet roses graced the rooms above. The spirit of Yuletide revelry was delightfully in evidence, and the merriest of good times was enjoyed by the hundred guests who were bidden to this charming function.

Progressive whist was played and when the scores were counted it was discovered that Mrs. Henry Rutherford held the highest number of points among the ladies, for which she was appropriately rewarded. Mrs. Alice Harris won the trophy for the next highest score, and to Mrs. B. E. Turner went the consolation. The highest gentleman's score was held by Mr. A. J. Crookshank. The scores were by Mr. E. S. Gilbert, and Terry Stephenson was properly consoled for standing at the foot of the list.

The Christmas motif prevailed in the refreshments, which were served at the card tables. A tiny green Christmas tree with twinkling candles glowed in the center of each table, and that grand old holiday bird, the turkey, with all the proper accompaniments, furnished the repast, while red Christmas bells were frozen in the ices.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Ella Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Duckett and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stephenson. In the pleasant task of keeping score and serving their guests, they were assisted by their charming nieces, Mrs. John Traylor and Miss Stella Donk, and by Miss Laura Davis and Miss Traylor of Pasadena. Master John Traylor opened the door to the arriving guests with the most sunny of Merry Christmas smiles, which was but a foretaste of the warmth of Yuletide cheer and hospitality that awaited them inside.

Fine Christmas Cantata

The choir of the First Baptist church has been in rehearsal for several weeks on P. Plaxinton Harker's beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Star of Bethlehem," and have definitely decided to give the work on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 28, at 3:30 o'clock.

The cantata will be given at the College of Music, corner Third and Bush streets, where the First Baptist people are holding services during the erection of their new church. It will take the place of the regular evening service, thereby giving the members of the congregation and also the members of other churches in the city an opportunity of attending this service as well as their own, or

HOW ONE PREACHER IS FILLING HIS CHURCH

Determined to increase the attendance at his Sunday sermons, Pastor Frank H. Ebricht, of the Methodist Episcopal church at Lapeer, Mich., has resorted to a form of newspaper advertising that he says is paying him well in increased attendance. The following has appeared in several editions of a local newspaper recently:

STOLEN, STRAYED, LOST OR MISSING
Missing—Last Sunday, many families from church.
Stolen—Several hours, from the Lord's Day, by a great number of people.
Strayed—Half a hundred lambs, went in the direction of no Sunday School.

Misaid—A quantity of silver coins owed to the Lord.
Wanted—Scores of young people. When last seen were walking toward "Sabbath-Breakers Land," which leads to "No Good."

Lost—A lad raised carefully. Not long from home. Supposed to have gone to Husk Lane, Prodigious Town.

Any person assisting in the discovery of all the above shall be in no wise lose his reward.

other services in the city.

The public is cordially invited to attend this cantata service, on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 28, at 3:30 o'clock.

DELIGHTFUL EVENING

Popular Bride-to-Be Center of Happy Gathering Presided Over by Mrs. Hawk

Another charming function for a charming bride-to-be, Miss Janet Smart, delighted the hearts of those who were guests of Mrs. Victor Hawk last evening. The time-honored mistletoe, beloved of Cupid and lovers, was used with red hearts in the effective decorations of house and tables, hearts being the principal motif.

A clever skit that taxed the ingenuity of the guests and resulted in lively "jingles," was the making of rhymes acrostically from the Christian name of the honoree. Each guest was given a heart-shaped card on which the name "Janet" was written and the young women plunged with animated interest into the wit-stirring contest.

Progressive games were played, the score cards bearing the heart emblem. Miss Bernice McBride proved successful in a prize-winning contest and was presented with a dainty embroidered breakfast cap. The merry diversions preceded a delicious two-course supper served on the same small tables used in the games.

Besides the guest of honor there were present Misses Mary and Fannie Smart; Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. Arthur McFadden, Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. Frank Todd, Mrs. Heffner, Mrs. Fred Ross; Misses Lulu Finley, Bernice McBride, Ada McFadden, Mabel McFadden, Gertrude and Louise Montgomery, Hazel Rowley, Edwina Collins, Olive Hutchinson, Edith Tidball, Mattie Smith.

Miss Smart was the guest of honor at a breakfast given on Thursday at 12:30 o'clock by Miss Carrie Bartram at her Lucas avenue home in Los Angeles. Covers were laid for ten, all at the table being Occidental girls. Mrs. Herbert Rankin of Santa Ana was one of the guests.

A Christmas tree with a surrounding snow scene was the centerpiece of the dainty breakfast table. Following the breakfast party, Miss Smart and her sister Fannie were the over-night house guests of Miss Jennie McFadden at the beautiful new home of the James McFaddens on the Foothill boulevard, just under Mount Lowe.

DANGER FROM CHRISTMAS DISPLAYS AND DECORATIONS

The Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana joins in the following warning of danger from Christmas displays and decorations:

To the Public:—Your attention is hereby respectfully called to the fact that the introduction about premises of Christmas green, harvest specimens, moving picture exhibits, and other inflammable materials, such as cotton to represent snow, and the like, introduces an additional hazard not contemplated by the underwriters in issuing policies of indemnity covering the usual fire hazard; and in this connection we refer you to one of the conditions of the California standard form of fire insurance policy, wherein it is stipulated that:

"Unless otherwise provided by agreement endorsed hereon or added hereto, this company shall not be liable for loss or damage occurring (a) while the hazard be materially increased by any means within the control of the insured."

In addition to the danger to property from displays referred to, the danger to life in crowded stores or places of meeting by reason of a panic occasioned by a fire, even though it be small and easily controlled, is so great that the underwriters, who have made a study of such hazards, would only be partly fulfilling their duty should they fail to give warning.

Use only non-inflammable decorations. Asbestos fibre is a good substitute for cotton. A tree should be set securely, so that the children, reaching for things, cannot tip it over. Do not permit decorations near gas jets. Do not make the slightest change in electrical wiring without consulting the Electrical Inspector.

BOARD OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS OF THE PACIFIC.

RICHARD WALDRON, JR., Secretary District "C."

Today the will of Domingo Oyharzabal, pioneer sheepman and rancher of San Juan Capistrano, was filed for probate, and by it the entire estate, valued at $200,000, goes to Oyharzabal's brother, Etienne Oyharzabal, of San Juan Capistrano.

The petition is filed by Attorney J. R. Scott of Los Angeles, and it states that the estate consists of a half interest in the partnership of D. Oyharzabal & Company, the other half interest belonging to Etienne. The profits of the half interest are estimated at $30,000 yearly.

The will was written May 14, 1905, and was witnessed by Scott and Frank James, both of Los Angeles. The document provides that Etienne shall receive everything belonging to Domingo, and that he may sell any portion of the property without order of court.

OFFICIAL INTRODUCER ON PRESIDENTIAL TOES

PARIS, Dec. 20.—A story is being told here today intimating that one of the reasons why M. Mollard, introducer of ambassadors at the President's Palace, was replaced by M. Martin, was because he stepped on the chief executive's feet. According to the story, on the day Martin succeeded Mollard as master of ceremonies, some one remarked to President Poincare, "Really, no one would notice M. Mollard's was not here."

"I would," the president is quoted as answering, "for no one has stepped on my toes." It appears that M. Mollard, in making introductions, had a habit of stepping back a pace. President Fallieres had learned the trick and stayed far enough away in the rear to escape. M. Mollard weighs over 200 pounds.

WELL SATISFIED WITH BOTH JOBS OF CONCRETE

Outside of Areas Indicated by Engineers, Rogers and Chamberlain Work of Good Quality and Depth

With the exception of the weak spots already picked out by the highway engineers, the inspection yesterday proved the concrete work done by C. E. Chamberlain and Rogers Bros. Co. to be of good quality and full thickness of four inches.

The Board of Supervisors and three committees from the Associated Chambers of Commerce expressed themselves as thoroughly satisfied with the work, excepting the two places, one due to soil conditions and the other to a defective template.

The three highway commissioners, M. M. Crookshank, D. C. Pixley and Richard Egan, Supervisors T. B. Talbert, F. W. Struck, H. E. Smith, William Schumacher and Jasper Leek, and Lew Wallace of Newport Beach, W. H. Bentley and R. E. Larter of Westminster, the last three representing the Associated Chambers, with Chief Engineer Halladay of the highway commission formed the party that made the trip of inspection and investigation over the concrete work done by the two contractors on the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach road.

"I want you people to pick out places where holes are to be dug," said Engineer Halladay. Chairman Talbert of the Board of Supervisors at random picked out places for the use of a pick. Holes about four inches square were cut through, and of about twenty-five holes dug on the two jobs yesterday not one was found where the concrete was less than four inches in thickness, and several were found where it was four and a half inches and a few where five inches were reached.

The inspection showed the concrete to be of good quality, and the substance was hard, as was proven by the difficulty with which the cutting was done and an examination of bits taken out.

Inspections by highway engineers had located two places where concrete will have to be replaced. On Rogers Bros. Company's work the area is limited. Soil conditions there and the fact that a heavy truck was run over the concrete while it was still green are responsible for a defective spot. Outside of that every test has proven Rogers Bros. Company to have done good work, both in quality and depth. Highway officials say that they are satisfied now that both Chamberlain and the Rogers company have endeavored to do the right thing, and that the defects discovered were due to causes that were not intentional. On the Chamberlain job a defective template is given the credit for the thin piece. The template sagged in the middle.

"I am well satisfied with the work on those two jobs," said H. E. Smith, Supervisor from Santa Ana and a well known concrete and cement contractor. Smith knows concrete work all the way through. "I make exceptions of those places already located, of course. We saw a good many holes dug yesterday, and the tests all showed full thickness. I consider the concrete job a good job. On Rogers Bros. Company's job I think the small area of thin base is due to the sinking of the forms in the mud. The templates are heavy, and I think the weight of the templates forced the forms down."

All of the supervisors expressed themselves as well satisfied with the two jobs. The contractors are to replace the concrete base where directed by the highway engineers. That has been understood from the first. The amount that will have to be replaced is nowhere near as great as was at first thought might be the case.

Some of the officials regret the inferences that have been drawn criticizing the two contractors. Subsequent developments have satisfied the officials that both Chamberlain and Rogers Bros. Company had no intention to beat the specifications.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY BAZAAR A SUCCESS

Useful and Decorative Articles Sold and With Lunches $75 Made

TALBERT, Dec. 20.—The bazaar which was given last Tuesday under the auspices of the Ladies Missionary Society, was a splendid success. All the material the ladies had made for the bazaar was put on sale and including the lunches that was served on the grounds, they realized $75 for their efforts. Miss Annie Kozina's Sunday school class, known as "The Happy Workers," had some things they had made and they were put on sale and sold for $12.50. The money made by the Missionary Society is used to help widows and orphans, also in home and foreign missions. This society deserves great credit for what they have done this year and especially their leader and president, Mrs. R. B. Wardlaw. Among the visitors to the bazaar from Los Angeles were N. H. McCusiston and D. Johnson.

The young people of the community met at the Swift garage last Saturday night and enjoyed the evening together at a "Hard Times" social. A good crowd was present and all took part in the games. Refreshments were served and all departed a fine time.

L. Koppl went to Los Angeles last Tuesday on business in the interest of the Swift garage.

R. B. Wardlaw and son Larry went to Riverside last Wednesday to transact some business there.

Mrs. W. D. Lamb went to Los Angeles last Monday on business. Mrs. J. Barker and children, of Westminster are spending this week with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Townsend. Mrs. M. A. Nimmo and niece, Mrs. J. C. Preston, are spending this week in Los Angeles with relatives and friends.

Mrs. R. Pyke and son, of Santa Ana visited her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Townsend, last Tuesday.

Mrs. Daisy Lawton of Huntington Beach, is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. A. Jones, this week.

Miss Elizabeth Moore of Redlands is visiting at the home of Mrs. W. O. Ater this week.

Harry Harper motored to Los Angeles last Sunday and spent the day there. Mrs. Jessie Irwin and her two daughters, Fay and Rachel, are spending this week with her brother, S. E. Talbert.

The children of the local Sunday school are practicing this week for their Christmas exercises.

The grammar school closed last Friday for the Christmas holidays, with a Christmas tree and a splendid program.

An effort is being made now to get the roads through Talbert macadamized before time for beet hauling next summer.

Mrs. S. E. Talbert is in Los Angeles this week under the treatment of a specialist.

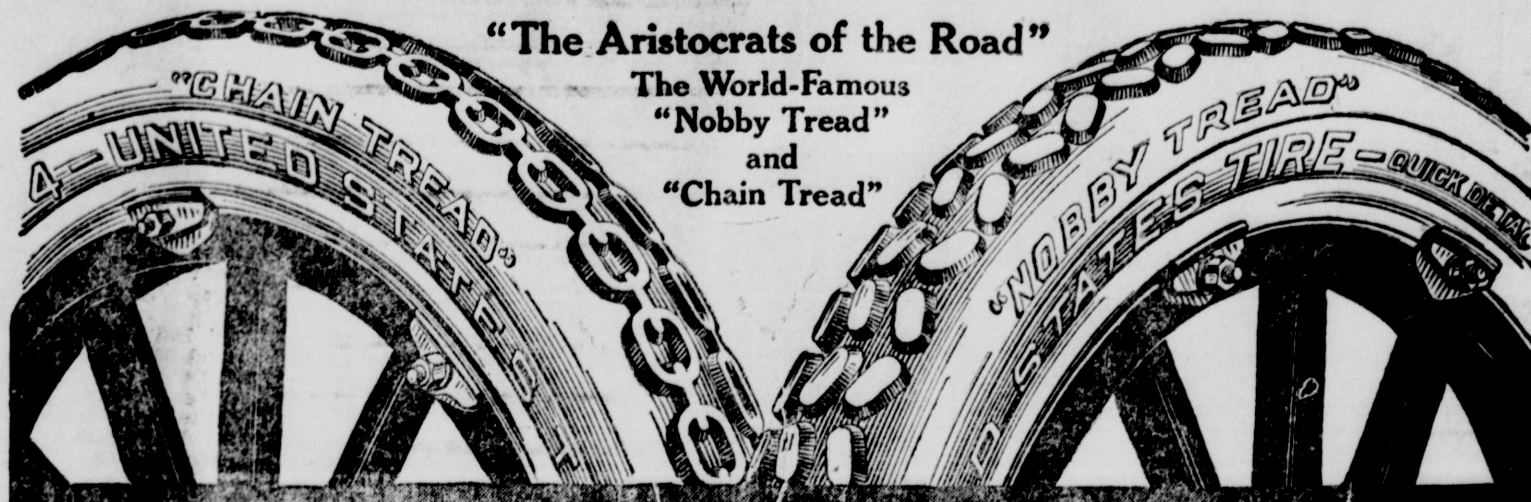

Mrs. Chas. Ward is confined to her bed this week. She was taken sick on the night after the bazaar.

BUGGY IS SMASHED BY AN AUTOMOBILIST

Huntington Beach News: Mr. and Mrs. S. Hughey while driving home from Garden Grove with a horse and buggy Sunday evening met with what might have been a serious accident, when they were run down by an automobile going in the same direction. One hind wheel of the buggy was demolished, the harness was broken and Mr. and Mrs. Hughey were much bruised and shaken. The occupants of the automobile drove on, refusing to allow their number to be seen. Mr. and Mrs. Hughey were obliged to walk home and lead their horse.

NOT BEYOND HELP AT 87.—Sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, stiffness in joints, weak, inactive kidney action and rheumatic pains, are all evidence of kidney trouble. Mrs. Mary A. Dean, 47 E. Elderly people will find Foley Kidney Pills both tonic and strengthening, and may be sure they contain no harmful drugs. Wingood's Drug Store.

Four Famous Factories' Combined Methods Make United States Tires Supreme

To give Motorists of the West perfect protection against Skidding—with phenomenal reductions in tire expense through additional Mileage—the United States Tire Company produced the most Popular Anti-Skid Tires ever made—"Nobby Tread" and "Chain Tread."

The real mileage wear of the "Nobby" and "Chain" Tread Tires is demonstrated day in and day out on the Western roads.

Their toughness and durability is proved daily under every conceivable condition.

The unfailing delivery of real tire satisfaction by "Nobby Tread" and "Chain Tread" explains the enormous and unprecedented demand for these famous tires by veteran motorists.

Facts—and facts alone—should influence the buying of tires.

The tremendous number of "Nobby" and "Chain" Tread Tires on Western automobiles to-day and the confidence that is reposed in them by the Western motorists proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that they are to-day the accepted standard of real anti-skid tire satisfaction.

When you purchase United States Tires you are sure of these vitally important facts:

1. Of the Four Factory Organization behind these famous tires.
2. Of vast experience in tire building.
3. Of a tremendous organization that actually backs up its tires.

The overwhelming number of automobile manufacturers who have selected United States Tires as the standard equipment of their 1914 cars proves unquestionably that United States Tires are today the accepted standard for real tire service.

Any Good Dealer Can Supply You With United States Tires

Don't Be Talked Into a Substitute
